Year of the Summer Youth Internship Program

The Summer Youth Internship Program (SYIP) celebrated its tenth year, providing more than 3,660 high school students across the county with meaningful paid internships in summer 2025. This five-week work-based learning experience operated by Miami-Dade County Public Schools, and jointly funded by The Children's Trust, Miami-Dade County, CareerSource South Florida, The Frederick A. DeLuca Foundation, Educational Federal Credit Union, and the Miami-Dade County Public Schools Foundation, offers students practical work experiences in professional settings. Over the past decade, more than 18,500 students have completed the program, with more than one-third participating for multiple years. In 2025, students from 92 high schools contributed over half a million work hours at more than 900 companies and organizations, including expanded participation from charter school students.

Parent Club Pass

In 2024-2025, 20,044 participants attended workshops. About 6,500 parents and caregivers received these valuable services. The Children's Trust launched its new Parent Club Pass rewards incentive program, which recognizes parents who regularly participate in Parent Club workshops. More than 150 Parent Club Passes were distributed to parents who attended three or more workshops. Rewards include local family experiences like movie tickets, Jumpin' Jamboree passes, Zoo Miami admissions, and Miami Marlins baseball game tickets. These rewards support parent engagement and help families access enriching activities throughout the community.
